

SOCIAL WORK AND HUMAN SERVICES

Social Work and Human Services

DIVISION: Social Sciences

Social Work and Human Services are rapidly growing and highly versatile fields, dedicated to improving the well-being of individuals, families, and communities. Professionals in these fields evaluate and address critical social issues such as poverty, inequitable access to healthcare, racial and social injustice, systemic discrimination, houselessness, incarceration, and the personal and family challenges that arise from these conditions.

- Social Work and Human Services – Associate in Arts Degree for Transfer (<https://curriculum.pasadena.edu/academic-programs/social-work-and-human-services/social-work-and-human-services-aat/>)