

GEOLOGY

DIVISION: Natural Sciences

PCC's Geology courses are the starting point for a career in education, geoscience research, and government, where scientific and technical skills are in high demand.

Our Geology courses cover a broad spectrum, from basic physical and historical geology to classes that focus on study of geologically significant areas throughout the western United States. Take Geology courses to fulfill a general education requirement, or earn an AS-T Degree in Geology and be prepared to transfer and pursue a four-year degree in Geology.
